Mules Kick Eagles Out of First Place Tie in District Basketball

Muleshoe swept the boards Tuesday night, and the Mules' broom knocked the Canyon Eagles from a three-way tie for first place in the district.

Prior to the game, Canyon, Muleshoe and Tulia were tied for first. After the game, Muleshoe and Tulia were tied, with Canyon in second. Tulia defeated Olton 56-42 to stay in the running.

In the varsity boys game Tuesday night, Muleshoe spent the last half erasing a seven-point lead and getting ahead, finally winning by 44-41. The Eagles led by one or two points until the last minute or so before the half, but lost the second half.

In the girls game, Muleshoe won 53-25 and in the B-game, Muleshoe won 47-37.

Survivors include two other sons, F. M. Kinney, formerly of Canyon and now of Amarillo, and R. Q. Kinney, Phoenix, Ariz.; two daughters, Mrs. W. H. Braswell, Bronte, and Mrs. J. J. Fine, Houston; 12 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Order blanks will be available at the office of the County Agricultural Agent, at the courthouse.

New This Year

The subject in question is the black and white license plate in the center. Barbara Walker, left, and Frances Clemmons, tax office deputies, display one of the 1957 tags.

Randall County Has BE 25 to BE 9224 In New Black and White License Plate

Car license plates for 1957 go on sale at the Tax Assessor-Collectors office Friday, and must be on all cars by April 1.

The color scheme of the plates has been changed this year to black on white—black lettering on white background. In addition, a small star has been added between the letters and the numerals.

Randall County plates are numbered from BS 25 to BE 9224. Those running from BE 25 to BE 4699 will be issued from the tax office branch in Amarillo and those from BE 4700 to BE 9224 will be issued from the office in the court house. The first 14 plates in the BE series, BE 10 to BE 24, are assigned to Potter County.

In addition to the 14 plates in the BE series, Potter County has AZ 3025 to AZ 9999, all the BA, BB, BC and BD series.

Rites Held for Former Resident

Funeral services for Mrs. Ollie Williams, former Canyon resident, were conducted last week in Amarillo. Mrs. Williams, 71, died in Amarillo Osteopathic Hospital.

She lived in Canyon prior to moving to Amarillo in 1932. Mrs. Williams was born June 10, 1885, in Marble Falls, Texas.

Survivors include two sons, Howard R. Williams, Amarillo, and Lt. Col. Wesley E. Williams, Ft. Hood, Texas; and two daughters, Mrs. Vera Walker, Amarillo, and Mrs. Gracie Cockrall, Bastrop, La.

Company F Starts Recruiting Drive

The first of February will touch off a month-long recruiting drive by the National Guard company stationed in Canyon.

The unit, Company F, 142nd Infantry, 36th NG Division, is seeking recruits from youths between the ages of 17 and 18½. By signing up before April 1, attending the weekly drill meeting and the annual summer camp, youths can fulfill their service obligation.

After April 1, those who sign up in the Guard will be required to undergo six months active duty with the Army. Every youth has an eight-year obligation of service. It can be filled in various ways.

One method is to enter the armed forces and serve eight years. Another is to enter the armed forces for two, three or four years and spend the remainder in an active reserve unit. The National Guard way is to join the Guard, drill at home, spend two weeks annually in camp for a period of eight years.

While a member of the National Guard, enlistees draw a full day's pay for each drill period attended, and two weeks pay for the camp. The unit in Canyon drills each Monday night for two hours beginning at 7:45 p. m.

Company F has plenty of good openings in its roster, and opportunities for advancement are excellent. Capt. Elbert V. O'Neill is commanding officer.

Mr. and Mrs. Worth Jennings returned Monday from Phoenix, Ariz., after a week's visit with their daughter and family.

March of Dimes Ends Thursday

Thursday concludes the March of Dimes drive. Tuesday at noon, Claire Kuehn, county campaign treasurer, reported a total of $1273.74 contributed from Randall County to the drive.

The sum of $366.28 was received in envelope returns, and $907.46 was contributed during the telephone. Mrs. Kuehn has not received returns from the Jaycees' pancake supper Jan. 25 or returns from coin collectors placed around town.

Jerry LaGrone estimated Tuesday that "as much as $400" was received for the March of Dimes from ticket sales to the pancake supper. All supplies were donated and the meal cooked and served by Jaycees. Advance ticket sales had not been completely totaled by noon Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving SoRelle spent Sunday in Dumas with Mr. and Mrs. Carroll SoRelle.

Faver To Go to Gladewater, Too; Board Gets Over 30 Applications

More than 30 applications have been received for the position of head coach at Canyon High School to replace Guy Harrison, who resigned last Wednesday night to accept the head coach job at Gladewater High School. Assistant Coach Forrest Faver also tendered his resignation to go with Harrison to Gladewater. Harrison plans to leave this week and Faver will follow him later when spring practice begins.

Two Herds Help Dairy Average

Member herds of the Randall County Dairy Herd Improvement Association produced an average of 720 pounds of milk and 36 pounds of butterfat during December, and herds owned by Louis Henders and Richmond Hales did a lot toward making that average.

Henders' herd produced an average of 1310 pounds of milk and 53 pounds of butterfat. Hales' herd produced an average of 1180 pounds of milk with 46 pounds of butterfat.

Neil Downing and West Texas State College had individual cows ranking high in both milk and butterfat, and Hales had one producing high in milk.

Downing's Holstein named Polly produced 2430 pounds of milk and 95 pounds of butterfat. Holstein 2, owned by WTSC, produced 2400 pounds of milk and 94 pounds of butterfat.

Hales' Holstein 39 produced 2120 pounds of milk and 68 pounds of butterfat. Holstein 1 produced 2100 pounds of milk and 24 of of butterfat.

Downing's Bert gave 2290 pounds of milk and 87 butterfat and his Frosty gave 2150 pounds of milk and 90 of butterfat.

The association has 28 herds, with 1002 cows milking and 256 dry. Harold L. Hensley is supervisor.

New Math Teacher Joins WT Faculty

A new mathematics instructor has assumed duties for the second semester at West Texas State College. He is David Lasher, who taught mathematics and physics at Panhandle High School for the past seven years.

Lasher, whose home is in Altoona, Pa., earned his B.S. degree in mathematics in 1949 and his masters degree in education in 1951 from West Texas State. He has taught at Panhandle since 1949.

An instructor in a mechanics school at Amarillo Air Base during World War II, Lasher returned to Panhandle after his discharge in 1946 to attend WT.

He is married to the former Helen Miller of Happy. The couple lives at 203 27th in Canyon.

Members of the school board began considering the applications at a meeting Tuesday night. They emphasized that they had not closed the door to other applicants, but were starting the job of sifting.

In the meeting they went through the credentials presented by the applicants. They did not indicate when a new coach will be hired.

At the halftime of the basketball game between Muleshoe and Canyon Tuesday night, Harrison was given the results of a fund campaign. Quarterback Club President Dutch Cleavinger presented a check to Harrison in appreciation of his good work in Canyon.

"After four years, we feel we've made a lot of friends, and of course we hate to leave from that standpoint," Harrison said Tuesday night. "But we feel from a professional standpoint it's better that we go."

"We'd like to express our appreciation to the administration, faculty, townspeople and most of all to the boys we've had while coaching football here. When it's all said and done, no coach is any better than his football players and his assistant coaches."

"To the Canyon Eagles I wish nothing but the best always," Harrison said.

Harrison began coaching in Canyon in 1953, guiding the Eagles through our football seasons. In 1954 his team lost only one game, to Phillips.

His best season was last fall, when the Eagles won the first bi-district championship on record, losing out in the regional playoff to Stamford, the team which won state.

While in Canyon, Harrison's teams won 26, lost 14 and tied two.

A graduate of East Texas State Teachers College in Commerce, Harrison began working in the coaching field as an assistant coach at Laredo in 1949. He moved to Phillips as an assistant coach in 1950, where he remained until moving to Canyon.

Harrison is taking the place of Lee Mitchell at Gladewater. Mitchell has been moved up from head coach to athletic director. Gladewater is in District 7-AAA.

Faver was employed as assistant to Harrison last fall. During the previous football season he had been a student at West Texas State and had done practice teaching with the Eagles team.

Although a graduate of West Texas State, Faver did most of his college work at East Texas.

Chamber Requests Citizens Help In Picking Years Work Projects

The Canyon Chamber of Commerce has asked the citizens of Canyon for help in setting up the program for the chamber this year.

The chamber wants recommendations for projects that can be backed or promoted by the Chamber of Commerce. The board of directors has already sent a letter to all chamber members asking for their suggestions.

Among the recommendations received thus far from members are:

House and apartment building program.

A special, maybe formal, effort to make new citizens feel at home.

Community-wide interest in improvement of Dreamland Cemetery.

More paving and street improvement.

Improvement, advertisement and continued promotion of Palo Duro State Park.

A clean-up campaign.

Adjustment of city water rates to reduce the cost of keeping yards beautiful.

Cooperation and assistance in obtaining Buffalo Lake as a water supply, and development of all possible sources of water.

Secure small industries.

Better street lighting.

More parking.

Back 4-H and Vocational Agriculture programs, possibly by building a pavilion or show barn for the annual show.

Back the youth program by increasing recreational facilities for the city park.

Get a paved road through Palo Duro Canyon.

The chamber would like to have an expression of the citizenship in these suggested projects, and recommendations for others.

They asked that residents write as soon as possible so the work program for the year can be started. All letters and cards should be mailed to the Chamber of Commerce, Box 8, Canyon.

Cold Comes To Canyon

Last weekend was cold enough to freeze the water in Tierra Blanca Creek while a little dab of snow fell on Saturday. Then Wednesday morning, Canyon woke up to see rain that promised to be the first measurable moisture since way last year.

County To Hire New Deputy Sheriff

The Randall County Commissioners Court authorized Sheriff L. S. Johnston to hire an additional deputy at a special meeting Tuesday afternoon following a meeting with the Randall County Grand Jury.

In the final report of the September Term grand jury, there was a recommendation that two additional deputies be hired, to be used for night patrol work. The commissioners court has met twice with the January Term grand jury, presumably to talk over the recommendation.

After talking with Sheriff Johnston, the commissioners decided to hire one deputy. The sheriff told the court he would use one of the deputies presently employed to be with the new deputy at night.

He said he did not want a deputy to patrol alone at night because of the dangers involved. The sheriff told the court he would be glad to try the new plan and see if it would help the operation of his department.

He said that if a trial shows that the work that must be done during the daytime suffers because of the transfer of one of the day deputies, he would ask the court for a change. "If it doesn't work, I'll come back and ask you to either give me another man or take the new one away," he said.

The court agreed with his belief that a deputy should not patrol at night alone, and authorized him to try the plan.

In the regular meeting Monday, the court decided to pay travel expenses for Criminal Dist. Atty. A. W. Lair to appear before a hearing in Austin today to testify on a proposed financial responsibility.

The decision was made after Buff Morris told the court that a group of interested citizens met informally during the morning to discuss the proposed law and decided they would like Lair to appear at the hearing.

Morris told the court that the group had agreed to pay Lair's other expenses if the county would pay the travel costs.

Lair is to tell the Senate committee in Austin what features that Randall County citizens would like to have included in the law.

The proposed law would make parents financially responsible for the actions of their children up to $300. At present, parents are not liable to repay any damage done by their children.

In other business, the court accepted a proposal of the State Highway Department to pave five more miles of the Washington Street Road.

The new paving will start at the Wayside Farm-to-Market Road and go north five miles. That will leave a strip of about 6½ miles unpaved between Amarillo and the Wayside Road.

The offer of the highway department was made in addition to the regular allotment of Farm-to-Market paving for the county. The regular paving offered this year was the completion of pavement around Buffalo Lake south to the Castro County line.

Dr. R. A. Neblett talked with the court about the proposed Amarillo City ordinance which would set the bi-county health district into operation. He said the ordinance contained nothing adverse as far as he could see, and recommended that the court approve the ordinance.

Of what value is identity?

What is it worth for the United States to retain its identity separated from that of other nations? Is it worth much for Texas to retain its name? Why should Randall County wish to stay separated from Potter or Deaf Smith County?

Is there any reason that Canyon should not be swallowed up in the ambitions and dreams of Amarillo? Yea, what is the value of Sam Smith trying to remain as he is—a different individual from John Jones in personality as well as name?

I say it's worth whatever it costs. I may not be worth much in any way, but I'd rather be me than Dwight Eisenhower.

And I believe that it's worthwhile for Canyon to remain Canyon and not become a suburb of Amarillo.

Each person and thing with identity is individual. There is not another town in the world like Canyon. There are plenty of similar ones, but none just like our town.

If the citizens of our town do not enter and keep up the struggle to retain our collective identity, we will surely lose it and become exactly like hundreds of others which are lying on the outskirts of cities.

Cooperation with a neighbor is one thing, but slavish kowtowing is another. In projects of mutual benefit, it is a good thing to go along with your neighbor and help as much as you can. But when the benefit goes all one way, you can lose your identity in a hurry.

Two pet projects that Amarillo is pushing now can serve to illustrate cooperation that is good and bad.

One pet project is the bi-county health department, which would be devoted to the prevention of disease, and have nothing at all to do with curing diseases.

The other project is the highly-touted hospital district, that would build and maintain hospital facilities.

The first project is one that Canyon and Randall County can go along with and receive benefit commensurate with the cost. Under the setup, the county and Canyon would have a voice in the organization that would just about equal the population ratio.

The cost will be fairly high, but the cost will be spread like the voice is. The bigger the voice, the bigger the cost.

Up to now, Canyon has been limping along in public health practices through a contract with the city of Amarillo for inspection of restaurants and drug stores. Canyon doesn't pay much, and consequently doesn't get much.

The county has no public health facilities whatsoever, with the exception of work done by the County Health Officer Dr. R. P. Jarrett. Dr. Jarrett, incidentally, is not paid for his services.

With the growth of population in the rural areas, mainly the area between Amarillo and Canyon, the county just about needs the services of someone to make sure water supplies don't get polluted, epidemics don't get started, and the like.

The other project is different. The hospital district would become another agency entitled to tax the residents of the area included in the boundaries for the erection and maintenance of a hospital or hospitals.

The plan being considered calls for a mammoth hospital in Amarillo, probably centered in the area where Northwest Texas Hospital is located. The hospital planned would be a nice thing, with just about every type of treatment facility available. It would include the present school of nursing, probably enlarged, and facilities for training interns.

In order to establish and keep up the hospital, and hospitals normally run in the red, everyone in the district would be taxed. The district would be governed by directors elected by the people, and most likely the government of the district would center in Amarillo.

Now, the rub comes in this way. All of Randall County would be included in the district. A resident would have no more privileges in the hospital than a non-resident (it costs just as much for a room for a Potter County resident as it does for an Oklahoma resident at Northwest Texas Hospital now).

The folks who live down at the south end of the county can probably be better served in the way of hospital care by going to the Swisher County hospital in Tulia. Those in the southwest corner can get to the Deaf Smith County hospital easier. Yet they would be taxed for the upkeep of a thing that is hard for them to use.

Dr. Neblett's hospital in Canyon is overcrowded. He can hardly afford to go deeply in debt to enlarge it. Yet it would most likely be about the right size if it's use were confined to people living in the immediate vicinity of Canyon. No one would wish to advocate that idea, though.

It appears to me that in setting up the bi-county health district, Canyon and Randall County will be cooperating with their neighbor to the north, yet will not be in any risk of losing any identity.

But if the hospital district is set up, the county and city will lose a little of their identity, a little that can never be regained.

It would seem that any proposition the large neighbor to the north puts up should be examined thoroughly to see whether we will be giving away some of our precious identity—our rights, if you wish—before we go blindly along. It must be remembered that everything a big city needs is not necessarily required for a small city.

If you like, you can push the necessity of identity to higher levels than the relations between cities.

We all know that practices necessary for life in the highly industrialized east are not necessary here, and would be detrimental in some cases. Yet, if citizens of our area give up their identities and don't raise their voices to let their needs be known, the Congress of the United States will do what is best for those other areas and forget us.

Say, have you been down town on Friday, Saturday or Sunday nights recently. It's a different place than it has been for nearly a year.

Ever since the Olympic has been re-opened Canyon looks more like a live place on weekend nights than it did. You know, for a while it looked like the police came out and rolled up the sidewalks around dark. But not any more.

Just take a drive down some of these weekend nights. Look at the lights and cars. I don't imagine Charlie Donnell would mind if you stopped and went to the movie, either, if you have the time.

(Charlie said the other day that many of the movies he's showing now won't be on "tiny-vision" for several years.)

While reading through the House Journal, the official publication of the proceedings of the House of Representatives in Austin, I saw that the Secretary of State received no official election returns on the general election vote for governor and lieutenant governor from several counties. Included in the list was Randall County. I wonder why our vote wasn't sent in officially. What's the use of voting if it doesn't count?

Gov. Price Daniel has lined up an impressive array of goals for himself and fellow officials during the next two years.

His message to the Legislature detailed 25 points. He labeled four as "emergencies."

Getting top priority were (1) water conservation (he suggested doubling the proposed $100,000,000 bond program), (2) additional highway patrolmen and other safety measures, (3) laws to facilitate right of way buying for highways and (4) a crime commission to guard against official misconduct, curb lobbying, etc.

Governor Daniel also recommended pay raises for teachers and state employees, local decisions on school segregation, increased old age pensions, abolition of dual banking-insurance operations, more money for insurance law enforcement, improved penal statutes for insurance and security controls, use of state funds for advertising and upping workmen's compensation benefits.

He said he favors a $5,000,000 prison building program, a paid adult parole system, laws to curb juvenile crime, revision of the state constitution, a continued state office building program (including an archives building), improved narcotics laws, study of the needs of the handicapped, election law changes and long-range study of the state tax structure.

Legislative comment following the talk was favorable.

Enactment of the total program would almost certainly require more revenue than the state has in sight. Daniel made no flat promise against new levies, except for sales and personal income taxes.

His budget message, to come later, will detail cost with suggestions for new revenue, if necessary.

Well-Heeled Cowhand

Texas' new temporary U. S. Senator, William Blakely, personifies the Southwestern success story.

He began his career as an Oklahoma wrangler, went on to become a Dallas lawyer, CPA and top-bracket financier. His millions are spread among tremendous real estate and oil holdings, three insurance companies and a controlling interest in Braniff Airways.

His first whirl at politics seems destined for success too. He is a friend, not only of outgoing Gov. Shivers, who made the 11th hour appointment, but also of new Gov. Price Daniel, Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson and President Eisenhower.

Blakely said he will vote with Democrats in the Senate, not upsetting the party's perilous 48-47 majority. Nor will he seek election.

Senate Leaders

Key chairmanships in the Texas Senate are in the hands of Sens. William S. Fly of Victoria and Wardlaw Lane of Center.

Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey assigned Fly to the finance committee, Lane to state affairs. Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas, who headed the interim Water Resources Committee, will be water and conservation chairman.

Senate committee system was overhauled this year and the number trimmed from 39 to 24. All chairmen, except Charles Herring of Austin (state departments and institutions) are returning members.

Others are: agriculture and livestock, George Moffett of Chillicothe; banking, Jarrard Secrest of Temple; claims, David Ratliff of Stamford; constitutional amendments, Jimmy Phillips of Angleton; contingent expenses, Crawford Martin of Hillsboro; counties, cities and towns, Frank Owen III of El Paso; education, Doyle Willis of Fort Worth; game and fish, Abraham Kazen Jr. of Laredo; insurance, Searcy Bracewell of Houston.

Also, interstate cooperation, Otis E. Lock of Lufkin; jurisprudence, R. A. Weinert of Seguin; labor and management, Carlos Ashley of Llano; legislative, congress-

Tax-Man Sam Sez:

The tax folks say that thousands of us fail to send in a check for the tax we owe when we file our income tax returns. They think a lot of people read the instructions, check their records, figure their tax, check their records, figure their tax, check their arithmetic, get all their W-2's attached, but then fail to enclose their check. These fellows sure went to a lot of trouble to get their tax right and then forgot to enclose a check. Most of us know we have to pay the tax. Let's all save Uncle Sam time and money by putting in our checks with our tax return. Don't send in your check without identifying what the check is for. The tax office has thousands of payments. They have trouble finding who to credit the payment to when you don't attach the check to your return.

sional and judicial districts, Martin; military and veterans affairs, Ray Roberts of McKinney; governor's nominations, Lock; oil and gas, Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo; privileges and election, W. T. Moore of Bryan; public health, Mrs. Neveille Colson of Navasota; rules, Weinert; transportation, Jep Fuller of Port Arthur.

Steakley Sworn In

First executive appointment approved by the Senate was Austin Attorney Zollic Steakley, Gov. Daniel's choice for Secretary of State.

Steakley's swearing-in by Chief Justice John E. Hickman followed within 24 hours. It was the new streamlined oath authorized by one of last November's constitutional amendments.

* Quipped Governor Daniel, a spectator: "I'm glad they left out that part about never fighting a duel, because I've almost had to do some of that recently."

Steakley's immediate predecessor, Tom Reavely, has joined an Austin law firm to be known now as Powell, Rauhut, McGinnis and Reavely.

"Bill" Board

With the legislative session well underway, hundreds of bills have flooded the hoppers. Some of the more significant would:

1. Transfer one per cent of the permanent school fund (now $340,000,000) to the available school fund. By Rep. Louis Dugas of Orange.

2. Create a separate Securities Commission which would combine operations now performed by the securities divisions in the Secretary of State's office and Insurance Commission. By Rep. Barefoot Sanders of Dallas.

3. Empower cities to tax agricultural land they annex at a lower rate than other property. By Rep. Richard C. White of El Paso.

4. Give the Railroad Commission power to regulate rural telephone rates. By Rep. Jack Welch of Marlin.

5. Control interest rates on small loans. One bill, by Rep. Ed Sheridan of San Antonio, would prohibit interest of more than 10 per cent a year. Another by Rep.

Tony Korieth of Sherman would limit interest to three per cent a month.

6. Prohibit sale or use of fireworks except in displays authorized by the fire marshal. By Rep. Gordon Forsyth of Corpus Christi.

7. Abolish absentee voting. By Rep. B. H. Dewey Jr. of Bryan.

8. Provide for automatic congressional re-districting every 10 years if Legislature fails to do so. By Dewey.

9. Provide four-year term for governor with a two-term limit. By Rep. Dixon W. Holman of Fort Worth.

10. Require school board candidates to run for places to prevent election of a member by a minority vote. By Rep. Ben Ferrell of Tyler.

Mrs. Fain Observes 80th Birthday; Came West When Only Fifteen

Mrs. Thomas T. Fain, who lives at 1301 Fourth Avenue, celebrated her 80th birthday Jan. 20, and said she had "the best time of her life." In fact, it might be said that Mrs. Fain, a small, lively and immaculately groomed woman, is exactly 80 years young, for she has kept her enthusiasm for life.

It wasn't until past 70 that she began flying to distant parts of the United States, which is a good deal of progress from her pioneering days.

Mrs. Fain came with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. John Winney, from Lampasas County, Texas, to Collingsworth County. She was born in 1877 in Hill County, Texas. Her father had been a miller, but he turned farmer to homestead near Wellington.

Moving out west was great adventure for a 15-year-old girl, and so thought Mrs. Fain when she and her family came to Wellington. "I'd always loved to ride, and out here I could get on my horse and ride wherever I wanted to go. Close neighbors? Well, you'd find a house every mile or so, but we weren't what you'd call isolated because we could ride all over the countryside."

Mrs. Fain had one sister and five brothers, but one of the brothers remained in Grayson County when the family moved to the Panhandle and her sister, Mrs. L. T. Alexander of Wellington, married three years after arrival in the Panhandle.

Mrs. Fain's father traded for a man's claim and built several rooms on the front of a house which included a dugout area in a hill side. "We had plenty of room," Mrs. Fain said.

There weren't many fences at the time the Winneys came to Collingsworth County, and Mrs. Fain said her father planted his first crop, then plowed a deep furrow around the planted area. She said that furrow was enough to discourage cattle from crossing into the field until barbed wire for a fence could be obtained.

A furrow also played an important part in the education of the children of the family. The dugout school, known as the Indian Creek School, was a mile and a half from the family's home. Mrs. Fain said her older brother plowed a deep furrow all the way from their home to the school, and that furrow served as a guide for the children to follow when they went to classes. Mrs. Alexander was the first teacher her sister and brothers had at the dugout, and the second was Mrs. S. D. Laune, now a resident of New York City.

Mrs. Fain believes that the one-room dugout school in which all age groups were taught had distinct advantages. There were about 20 pupils in the one-room school she attended, and she said children who learned quickly simply moved to a more advanced group in whatever subject they did well, and there wasn't any necessity for holding an apt pupil back simply because he had to remain with his age group.

"You'd be surprised how much you could learn like that," Mrs. Fain said. "Why, in spelling, for instance, the older children could be teaching the younger ones while the teacher was busy with the middle group's arithmetic."

Mrs. Fain attended the school two years, then she taught one year each at Dozier and at her alma mater, Indian Creek School. She was married Jan. 1, 1902, to Thomas T. Fain, a farmer-rancher at Needwood community in the eastern part of Collingsworth County. The wedding was held at the family home, a minister coming out from Wellington to perform the ceremony.

"Weddings — or any party — were open to anyone who heard about them," Mrs. Fain said. "Anything like that was a big event and no one waited to be invited."

Mr. Fain died Aug. 6, 1939, and in 1941, Mrs. Fain moved to Canyon to make her home with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Oldham.

A member of the Baptist church for 61 years, Mrs. Fain still continues her work in the First Baptist Church here. She is president of the King's Daughters Sunday School class and works in the Training Union and the Women's Missionary Union.

She remembers, though, that in the early days in Collingsworth County, denominations were pretty much ignored. She said once each month a Baptist minister came out from Wellington for services in a dugout, once a month a Methodist minister came, and occasionally a Presbyterian minister preached for the community.

There was no organized church, though, she said and she and her family had membership in the church at Wellington.

For years, Mrs. Fain worked with Home Demonstration Clubs, and she is a member of the Canyon Mother-in-Law Club, the Amity Club and the Pioneer Club. Her hobbies are piecing quilts, crocheting and hooking rugs. Her first year in Canyon she entered a crocheted tablecloth in a contest and won first prize, but she said she prefers to work without bothering to enter contests or fairs. She is now making either a crocheted tablecloth or bedspread for each grandchild.

Mrs. Fain's airplane trips which she said she enjoyed very much, began in 1952 when she flew to Oregon to visit a niece. Her relatives and children didn't approve, but Mrs. Fain flew anyway, not only to Oregon but to Los Angeles and points along the coast and then back to Amarillo.

She liked the flights so much she went to Boston in 1955, then on to Concord, N. H., and flew back to Kansas City where she met a daughter. Only last year she flew out to Los Angeles for another visit along the West Coast, flew back to Denver to a stopover, then flew on to Amarillo.

"I had a wonderful time. I like flying," she said.

To help her celebrate her birthday, Mrs. Fain's children, other relatives and friends numbering 74 persons in all, were present at an open house Saturday afternoon.

Her children and other guests were at a dinner Sunday to honor Mrs. Fain. Besides Mrs. Oldham, Mrs. Fain's children are Everett W. Fain of Lutie, Mrs. Paul Allingham of Atcheson, Kan., J. W. Fain of Canyon and Mrs. Roy L. Pendergraft of Amarillo. She has nine grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Healthful Sleeping Is Club Session Topic

Mrs. Mona Hildreth, county home demonstration agent, was the speaker for the Canyon Home Demonstration Club at the January meeting in the home of Mrs. J. D. Edwards. With the aid of slides, Mrs. Hildreth gave the program, "Healthful Sleeping," and showed the proper furniture arrangements that can help make a more restful atmosphere.

Mrs. E. L. Hardaway was chosen as a nominee for the future election to attend the district THDA meeting in Amarillo.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Luke Miller, Mrs. J. D. Loudner, Mrs. Glenn Haynes, Mrs. Bill Wilson, Mrs. Lawrence Hunnicutt, Mrs. Hardaway, Mrs. Eva Barnard, Mrs. Thelma Owens, Mrs. Clyde Thomas, Mrs. Crawford Ruthart, Mrs. Marion Williams, Mrs. Marion Higdon, Mrs. D. R. Weaver and Mrs. Milton Myers.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Hardaway on Feb. 1.

More Reasons for Return Audits

This is the fourth of a series of 12 articles prepared by the Internal Revenue Service to assist taxpayers in avoiding the mistakes that cause tax audits.

The Internal Revenue Service believes that most taxpayers would avoid a tax audit by reading the tax instructions before filing their tax returns.

Today we hope to assist the several thousand taxpayers whose returns otherwise might be selected for tax audit because of errors in their contributions claimed.

Here are the six most common reasons for the Internal Revenue Service having to adjust taxpayers' deductions claimed for contributions:

(1) The taxpayer failed to submit substantiating evidence of the deductions claimed therefore we have no alternative but to adjust his return by restoring to income the unsubstantiated deductions claimed.

(2) A contribution to be deductible must be made to an organization of the type described under Section 170 of the Internal Revenue Code for 1954, which has applied for and been granted non-taxable status.

(3) A "love offering" made directly to a minister is not deductible.

(4) In general, the deduction for contributions are limited to 20% of adjusted gross income. An additional 10% of a taxpayer's adjusted gross income is allowable if paid to churches, tax exempt educational institutions maintaining a regular faculty and curriculum and having a regular student body attending resident classes, and tax-exempt hospitals.

(5) Gifts to individuals, value of blood donated, or contributions to political parties or candidates, Chambers of Commerce, Labor

Bedrooms Discussed At Highland Club

The Highland Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. L. T. Campbell, Wednesday, Jan. 23. The yearbooks were discussed and extra programs planned. Mrs. Mona Hildreth then showed slides on bedroom furnishings.

Present were Mrs. George Cook, Mrs. R. C. Reeder, Mrs. Roy Godman, Mrs. John Plank, Mrs. Roy Lamb, Mrs. Leroy Lamb, Mrs. Jas. Lamb, Mrs. Earl Boydston, Mrs. Hildreth and the hostess.

Umbarger 4-H Clubs Have Joint Meeting

The boys and girls of the Umbarger 4-H Clubs met Jan. 15 at the school hall to hear Mrs. Mona Hildreth, Randall County Home Demonstration Agent, and John Brazil, Randall County Agricultural Agent, who discussed remodeling of bedrooms.

The meeting was called to order by Bernice Przilas. A sing-song followed.

Columbus died at Valladolid, Spain, in 1506.

Unions, Social Clubs, Reserve Officers Organizations, Civic Leagues, and tuition or amounts in lieu of tuition are not deductible.

(6) Even though a contribution is made to an organization described under Section 170 of the Internal Revenue Code for 1954, the contribution is not deductible if the donor designated the use of the contribution to or by some individual or another organization not described under Section 170 of the Internal Revenue Code.

Taxpayers will benefit themselves and the Government by keeping accurate records of their contributions. Every taxpayer should take all the deductions to which he is entitled; however, the law requires the Internal Revenue Service to ask for proof of the Modern cars, especially the 1957 models, have engines with high compression ratios.

Even at this altitude, these engines require the extra performance of Humble's famous Esso Extra gasoline.

Prevent "the knock you cannot hear" — use famous Esso Extra gasoline.

Engineers call it "trace knock," a knock so faint that only a trained technician can hear it. But like all knocks, it robs your engine of power, forecasts engine damage. Well, Why Not?

Why haven't we had a fire drill? This is the start of the second semester and CHS has not had a fire drill.

Sure, the school hasn't burned down yet, but a building can only burn once. If the students aren't drilled, how will they know what to do when it is a case of do or die? It does little good to have monitors if there are no fire drills. The monitors will not know what route to take out of the building.

Schools have been known to burn. Several here in the Panhandle have been razed by night-time blazes. It can happen at CHS, and it can happen during school hours!

In sophomore and senior English classes, students are required to write themes on fire prevention. Art students make posters on the same subject.

Is it too much to ask for students to be given a chance to practice what they preach?

Work Now

Seniors who want exemptions from final examinations should begin working now and keep it up.

Exemptions are determined by the entire semester's work, not by the work done in May. Requirements for exemption are: no six weeks grades lower than 75; not more than five absences; all work turned in and corrected; a course average of 85 and a citizenship average of 90; and no truancies. These requirements cover the entire semester.

The new sections of the rule (the five days of absences and the truancy parts) were added this year because the need for such a rule was felt. Any student who has missed one day of class has missed one hour of class discussion. No one, regardless of how good a student he or she may be, can make up a class discussion. Missing five days means missing five hours of class discussion. The school officials feel that being absent more than five hours is too much of a handicap for the student to be exempt; therefore, these students must take the test.

Exemptions are an honor. Truancies are a disqualification on any other honor. Why shouldn't it be the same on exemptions?

Other students may wonder why only seniors are exempted, and all may wonder why exemptions are offered only the second semester. The Texas Education Agency, with which CHS is affiliated, recommends that there be absolutely no exemptions, but since seniors are so busy at the close of school, Canyon High does offer exemptions to them.

Who's the Wise Guy?

What is CHS coming to, anyway? Firecrackers are being set off in the halls. Aren't we big enough to know better?

By the time students get in high school, they are mature enough to decide for themselves whether something is right or not. If there is danger of property damage or personal injury, it is not right. High school students know when risk is involved, therefore they should be able to determine right from wrong.

Certainly there is danger when firecrackers are involved. Many people's eyes have been put out, and many hands have received serious injuries. Sparks from the explosion might set off a bigger explosion of gases. Certainly the students who set off the firecrackers didn't think! Surely no one would want to hurt himself or any one else.

Good Luck

We, the staff of the Eagle's Tale think that we speak for the student body when we wish Coach Guy Harrison good luck with his new job at Gladewater. We shall be sorry that he left, but we hope that he's not. He has been not only an outstanding coach, but a man with whom we were glad to associate.

Valentine Theme Set for Festival

All the gaiety, color and fun of Valentine's will be incorporated in the second social of the Canyon Community Recreation Center on Feb. 2. It will be conducted from 8 to 11 p. m.

This social is to be held at the National Guard Armory and will furnish entertainment of square dancing, shuffleboard, ping pong, darts, dominoes. Mr. and Mrs. Bedford Forrest will direct the program.

Membership cards may be purchased from Student-Faculty Congress members. A membership card, costing 50 cents, entitles the student to attend all of the socials given by the Recreation Center. Being responsible for his conduct, a member may pay an additional 50 cents and invite a guest.

Transportation to and from the armory will be provided for those who do not have a way. Those wishing such service should meet at the Canyon Drug.

The parent sponsors of the social on Feb. 2 are Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Cornette, Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Nester, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Parker, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Franks. Refreshments for the high school get-together will be furnished by Mrs. Ellis Lemons, Mrs. J. D. Bond, Mrs. E. M. Myers, Mrs. E. L. Hardaway, Mrs. Jim Cabe, Mrs. Luke Miller and the high school sponsors.

Recreation night for junior high school will be held from 7:30 to 10 p. m. on Feb. 1.

Parent sponsors for the junior high social will be Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bellah, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Cabe, Mrs. D. C. Gamble and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Haley. On the refreshment committee are Mrs. Crawford Kiker, Mrs. Ralph Cabe, Mrs. E. Lewis, Mrs. John Lewis, Mrs. Harry Wheeler, Mrs. E. O. Hutton and the sponsoring parents.

A skating party for March is being planned.

FTA Will Guest At Chapter Meet

Future Teachers of CHS will be guests at a reception given by Delta Kappa Gamma Feb. 9 at Amarillo High School, 7:30 p. m.

This invitation was given by the FTA by Miss Elva Fronabarger, a member of the organization, at a meeting held Jan. 21 in the home of Marcia Barker. Marilyn A. Payne, English, Spanish and journalism teacher in CHS, is president of Pi Chapter. The recruitment committee headed by Miss Mae Simmons, is responsible for the reception.

The speaker for the meeting will be Mrs. Eunah Holden, international secretary of Delta Kappa Gamma. Previous to her present position she was an active classroom teacher and vice president of the Florida Education Association.

Delta Kappa Gamma is an International Honor Society for women teachers. They must have taught five years and be outstanding in their field before being considered for election to membership. One of the annual activities is to encourage students who wish to become teachers.

Each year the society awards a scholarship to a student in this area who will become a teacher. Those considered are from various schools. A committee checks the records of those eligible and decides who should receive the scholarship.

During the FTA meeting Monday night talks were given by Barbara Myers, Margaret Johnson and Ina Jo Hughes. They spoke on "Teaching is not Baby-Sitting," "What the President Had To Say About Teaching," and "Ten Points to Reduce Teacher Tension."

Twenty-one members were present. Punch and cookies were served.

Seniors Will Tour Southern Texas

Well, it is settled at last. The seniors are going to a dude ranch, the Mayan Dude Ranch, near San Antonio, then to San Antonio, and on to Austin, and home again. The trip will cover at least 1,000 miles and will last five days.

The dude ranch offers swimming, horseback riding, and other recreational activities. The cost, which is eight dollars a day per person, covers the room, the meals, and the recreational facilities. The entire cost there will be borne by the class. After leaving Canyon early Wednesday morning, the seniors will arrive there about noon the same day and will stay until Friday, when they will go into San Antonio for some sight-seeing, then go to Austin where they will spend the night.

A banquet will be held in Austin Saturday night. Sunday the tired students will come home. Dates of the trip will be May 8-12. On Jan. 17, the seniors measured for their caps and gowns.

The Short of It

Short Team Ironical Powerhouse As Eagles Soar Through District

Ronald Crow (5-9) and George Snapp (5-7) are the shortest guards on the shortest team, probably, to ever represent CHS. Charles Neblett (5-11½), A. L. Pruett (5-10½) and Leonard Miller (5-10½) bring the starter five average to an amazing 5-9 average.

Lack of height seems almost an irony in Canyon after such greats as Austell, Troy and Ray Burrus, Bruce Winn, Garland Butler, and others who dominated the local scene for so many years.

Despite their handicap, the Eagles have really put out everything they had to hand out losses to the two top teams the past week.

George Snapp held Tulia's Dennis Love to eight points and Charles Neblett grabbed 14 rebounds to control the boards. Outstanding defense was displayed by Crow, Miller, and Pruett.

Olton was also defeated as 3 wins and 1 lost record thus far in district play this season. Statistics are as follows:

Eaglettes Drop 3 Games; Take 1

Losing three and winning one, the Canyon Eaglettes opened their district basketball season.

Canyon defeated Olton, 41-29, in the fourth district battle Jan. 22. High scorer for the local team was Marilyn Winn, tagged by Janie Brotherton with 12. Joy Rose was in the air spot with six points.

Tulia bounced the Eaglettes 47-42 on Jan. 18. Janie Brotherton flipped in 19 points but she was out-hard for the top scorer's spot by Jane Ledbetter, who had 18 points. Previously, the local girls had been defeated by Dalhart, 55-46, and by Muleshoe, 47-46.

In the Dalhart game, Marilyn Winn scored 12 points, but that wasn't enough to take the scoring leadership for the game away from Jane Ledbetter, who tallied 14 points. Mary Sue Bolton was in a close third place with 11 points.

Outscored by Muleshoe, the girls opened the district play Jan. 11. High point player in that game was Janie Brotherton with 13 points, followed by Marilyn Winn with 10 points.

Plan Combined Concert Program

A combined concert will be given by the CHS band and choir Jan. 31 at 7:30 p. m. in the high school auditorium.

Having chosen to do two arrangements together, they selected "The Nation's Creed" by Ralph Williams, and "A Tribute to Romberg" arranged and adapted by Douglas MacLean.

The choir will sing five songs, "God So Loved the World," "Cantata Domino," "My God and I," "No Man is an Island" and "Barefoot." The band will play five selections, "Storm King March," "Andante," "La Siesta," "Theme in Eb," and "Goofin'."

Mr. M. J. Newman, director of the Buffalo Band, will direct the CHS group in a band clinic. Mr. Herman Demus, CHS band director, said the clinic will be "in one way just an extra long rehearsal." The clinic will be in the CHS band house Jan. 28 from 12:30 until 3:30 p. m.

The Band Council kept the secret about the band party right up to the last minute. On Jan. 11 the members met at the band house and were driven to the Varsity Theater where they saw a movie. After the show they returned to the band house where refreshments were served.

7 Pupils Enter, Five Withdraw

Even though CHS has 150 students through withdrawals since the Christmas holidays, the school population is two more because of the students who have entered during the same time.

Seven entries were made during the period. Two of the students had attended the Canyon schools before. One, Helen Guthrie, entered the freshman class after being out for the first semester because of illness. The other, Billy Steen, had moved to Farwell and then returned to re-enter the freshman class.

Other new entries are Virgil and Walter Weaver, formerly of Ramona, Okla., entered the junior and freshman classes, respectively; Gary Chumley, freshman, who came from Abilene; J. W. Simms, sophomore, a former resident of Seminole; and Larry Kitchens, Amarillo, who entered the sophomore class.

Two students, both freshmen, withdrew to enter the Amarillo schools. They were Gerald Findley and David Long. Two more freshmen quit school to go to work. They were Tommie McBroom and Sue Davis. A senior, Jimmy Hales, moved to Lubbock.

Snapp, Riley Chosen King, Queen Of Personality Week Celebration

As a summation to Personality Week, George Snapp and LaVerne Riley were elected Personality King and Queen on Jan. 25. They will represent CHS in the Personality King and Queen festivities held at West Texas State College later in the year.

Harrison Resigns Coaching Post

Guy T. Harrison, head coach of the Eagles, has resigned his position at Canyon High to take a job with Gladewater Public Schools.

Gladewater is a Class AAA school. It is 26 miles northeast of Tyler, which is near the Texas-Louisiana line. Coach Harrison will replace Lee Mitchell, who has become athletic head there.

Coach Harrison came here in 1950 from Phillips where he was assistant coach to Chesty Walker. As B team coach there Mr. Harrison led his squad to 29 victories out of 34 games. Under his reign as head coach at Canyon High, the Eagles have won 26, lost 14 and tied two. The youthful coach had been employed at Laredo before his Phillips tenure.

Mr. Harrison served three years in the 99th Artillery during World War II. He coached the 83rd division All-Star football team to an European service championship. He was discharged as a first lieutenant after receiving a field commission.

Coach Harrison graduated from Post High School and received his B.S. from East Texas State College in 1947 and his M.S. from the same school in 1948.

Mr. Joe A. Gibson, who released the announcement of Mr. Harrison's resignation, said that no one was in line for the vacant post.

Hardaway Elected Reigns Charm Queen

Patricia Hardaway was selected Charm Queen at the FHA chapter meeting Jan. 10. Pat, a junior, is vice president of the chapter. She has previously been chosen Girl of the Month, NHS member, junior class secretary, and assistant drum major of the band.

The chapter elected Margaret Lee Johnson as FHA area officer nominee. Mayla Atkinson was elected FHA state officer nominee. Both girls received majority vote of the group. Guest speaker at the meeting was H. R. Fulton who discussed flower arrangement and planning of home gardens.

FANITA MARSHALL

Crocker Winner Marshall Named

Fanita Marshall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Marshall, has been named the Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow of Canyon High School. She received the highest score in a written examination on homemaking knowledge and attitudes given Dec. 4 to senior girls.

Fanita's examination will be entered in the state competition that will determine Texas' candidate for the title of All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow. Her paper will also be considered for the runnerup award in the state.

As winner of the Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow in CHS Fanita will receive a pin designed by Trifari of New York.

An active student throughout her high school days, Fanita has been a member of the Spanish Club, parliamentarian of FHA in 1955-56, chosen as the most valuable choir member of 1955-56, and recipient of an English award in 1954-55. She now holds the position of corresponding secretary in FHA and is a member of National Honor Society. Also Fanita serves as organist at the Baptist church.

General Mills sponsors the Search for the Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow which is designed to assist schools in education for home and family living and to emphasize through a sound scholarship award program the personal qualities and sense of values necessary to successful homemaking. A total of $106,000 in scholarships will be awarded this year.

Each state winner will receive a $1,500 scholarship plus an educational trip with her homemaking teacher to Washington, D. C., Williamsburg, Va., and New York City.

LaVerne truly deserves the honor of being Personality Queen. She always has a sweet smile and a kind word for everyone. LaVerne was elected Band Queen for 1955-56, State McCall's representative, FTA treasurer and secretary, Student Council of 1956-57, NHS member.

Also LaVerne is active in volleyball, basketball. She has been a twirler for the band for two years.

George is an all-around good guy with that certain something that makes him well liked. He has been active in sports all four years in high school. In 1956, he was named to honorable mention all-regional team. Basketball and football have been his main interests and also FFA.

Runnersup were Cecilia Waters and Larry Brandon. Earlier in the year Cecilia was elected Halloween Queen and Larry was named Smile King.

Student Council members endeavored to make Personality Week more than just another occasion to elect a king and queen. Although only eligible seniors were candidates for the honors, the council tried to impress on the minds of all the students the importance of improving one's personality.

Short talks were given by SFC members several mornings over the public address system to encourage personality development. Witty posters encouraged students to make friends, be pleasant and smile.

FFA Places High In Annual Show

The 10th annual Randall County Junior Livestock Show was held Saturday, Jan. 19, at the city barn. The show was called the most successful in years. More than 70 pigs and 28 lambs were shown but only seven calves were shown.

Leading the race for intramural honors the juniors are gaining momentum as they pull away from the other classes in the boys and girls volleyball series. Second place honors in volleyball go to the sophomores who landed a second and third place. Freshman girls captured a second place in competition.

For this year the ratings are as follows:

Juniors won both boy and girl divisions in the washer contests; sophomore boys and the junior girls took first place honors in the horseshoe contest. Second place was won by the junior boys and senior girls. Totals by classes are juniors, 28; sophomores, 3; and freshmen, 1.

Ping pong will be next in the class intramurals. The tournament will be held in the gym.

Farm Tax Date Is February 15

COLLEGE STATION—February 15, 1957, is the income tax report deadline for Texas farm and ranch families who did not file an estimate and payment before January 15, 1957, warns C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist.

Farmers and ranchers should not overlook the fact that certain livestock sales made under drought conditions need not be reported in taxable income provided the animals are to be replaced within one year, says Bates. An extension of this 12-month provision may be obtained from the District Director of Internal Revenue if drought conditions continue, he adds.

Bates says all operators with a "net farm profit" of $400 or more must file a return and pay a 3 percent social security tax whether any income tax is due or not. Operators with less than $400 net profit, but over $600 gross farm income may use two-thirds of their gross income for determining self-employment tax up to $1200, says the specialist.

Landlords are covered for self-employment benefits this year provided they "materially participate" in the farm's operations, Bates points out. He says "material participation" may be determined either on the basis of actual physical work or through management decisions affecting farm and ranch production.

The Farmer's 1956 Tax Guide Bulletin provides information on tax credits and other deductions allowed farm operators. It is free from your county agent or the Internal Revenue staff.

Also, suggests Bates, ask your county agent about a farm record book designed for income tax and social security purposes which is available for a small charge from the Exchange Store, College Station, Texas.

Mitch Murray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Murray, formerly of Canyon, is transferring from the University of California at Berkeley to West Texas State College this semester.

Sen. Johnson Introduces Bill To Aid Veterans Seeking Direct VA Home Loans

Senator Lyndon B. Johnson has introduced in the Senate a bill designed to speed up housing loans to veterans without any increase in the present interest rate of four and one-half per cent.

The Johnson bill has three principal provisions:

(1) It would make available 25 per cent of the National Service Life Insurance Fund for direct veterans' loans at four and one-half per cent interest.

(2) It would increase the authorized amount of the mortgage limit from $10,000 to $14,000.

(3) It would eliminate some of the delays in processing applications, which in many cases have actually prevented loans from being made.

"This measure would make available to veterans money out of their own fund," Johnson said. "It also would eliminate the dampening effect of the present $10,000 mortgage limit, which has caused many applications to the Veterans Administration simply not to be processed."

In order to speed up action on applications, Johnson's bill would require action, either affirmatively or negatively, by the VA on each application for direct loan at the same time that efforts to obtain private financing are being made. If private financing should be available within a 20-day period, it would be preferred and used. If not, the VA would be in a position to make qualified loans much faster than at present.

A number of other Senators have joined Senator Johnson in sponsorship of his bill.

'Nothing but America and a Few Boxcars'

By DOVIE CHERRY

When Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Friemel came to Umbarger 50 years ago, there was "nothing here but America and a few boxcars on the track," as Mr. Friemel says. There were a few families around, but according to Mrs. Friemel, they were scattered and far apart.

That was the type of sparsely populated land that greeted the newly wed couple who arrived in the winter of 1907 to make their first home in a community that was a part of their lives for the next 50 years.

Next Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. Friemel will celebrate their golden anniversary. An open house, planned by the Friemel children, will be held from 2 to 4 p. m., a dinner for the family will follow and at 8 p. m., a dance will be opened with the Grand March. The open house and dance will be at St. Mary's Parish Hall.

It's a 50 years which both Mr. and Mrs. Friemel remember well. When youngsters they were neighbors on farms in High Hill County at Fryett, Texas. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kriskche, who came from Austria, and he was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Pius Friemel, his father from Germany and his mother from Austria.

Mrs. Friemel was born Feb. 20, 1886, and her husband was born Jan. 8, 1884.

Mrs. Friemel's father died when she was five years old and until she was 21 she, a sister and four brothers helped her mother. Mr. Friemel came to the Panhandle with his parents when he was 18, which was in 1902, but he returned to High Hill in 1907 to marry Miss Kriskche.

So they moved west and made their home in the Umbarger area in a house built by Mr. Friemel's father. The house is now on a brother's farm about four miles west of Umbarger. Mr. Friemel began to farm on about 200 acres which gradually grew to 2½ sections.

Spencers Attend State SCS Meet

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Spencer returned last week from the state Soil Conservation convention in Tyler, attended by delegates from more than 100 soil conservation districts.

During the business meetings at the conventions the Spencers heard reports of soil conservation practices and progress from over the state.

One speech, by a woman who lives in the Edwards Plateau area of southwest Texas, told of the advantages of proper grazing practices. The woman told how production had grown on their place after overgrazing was stopped.

She told the group that with fewer animals grazing a place, the grass grows better, and there is usually enough winter stock without extra feed. She said the calf crop weighs about one-third more at sale time than the calf crop on overgrazed land, and that the lamb crop runs better than 100 per cent because many of the ewes have twins that live.

She said the sheep even grow more wool. The woman told the convention that grass on their place lasted even into the drouth times, when grass on overgrazed land was completely gone.

Spencer said that a man who lives south of San Antonio told him that the farmers in his area who practice good conservation made crops this year when those who don't made no crops at all.

Umbarger P-TA Sees Stevens' Brazil Slides

Judge Roy Joe Stevens was the speaker for the Umbarger Parent-Teacher Association Friday evening, Jan. 18, in the school hall. Judge Stevens presented colored slides of his trip to Brazil which he took last summer.

"I was one of the first progressive farmers here," he said. In 1918, he had his first big wheat crop, a crop which people spoke of as "Anybody that farms wheat goes broke."

"There were a few irrigation wells then, but most who operated them went broke . . . but there was a lot more rain then than we have now. Of course there were dry spells, but it was different," he said.

The difference as Mr. Friemel explains it, was the method of plowing. "We didn't pack our ground to death with tractors," he said. He used teams of up to 30 horses which didn't pack the soil. Packed soil is dead soil, according to this pioneer farmer.

Light tractors are better than heavy ones, he said. "They are not so detrimental to the crop."

Grass grew high, four or five feet, when the Friemels moved here. Ducks are one of the reasons for short, as well as a lack of, grass around lake areas according to Mr. Friemel. He said the ducks fly down and root out every bit of grass, and then can't be shot in defense.

The Friemels also had livestock. "We had chickens, and for years we took eggs to Amarillo every week," Mrs. Friemel said.

The couple had 10 children. Charles, who lives in Umbarger, is the oldest. The other children, in order of birth, are Hubert, Wilhelm Bauer, who is dead, Theodor, Anton, who died when four of diphtheria, Mrs. Rose Wieck, Hilda Berkenfeld, Richard, Pauline Hascke and Ernest, who is dead.

All live in Umbarger except Theodor, who lives in Groom, and Mrs. Berkenfeld, who lives in Prior, Okla.

There are 33 grandchildren and one great-grandchild. "And there may be another (great-grandchild) soon," Mrs. Friemel added.

Mr. and Mrs. Friemel were raised speaking German and they both still speak German as well as English. They taught all their children to speak German, and Charles said he could not speak English until he began school.

Mr. Friemel is known to all his friends as E. J. because when he came here no one could pronounce correctly his first name, Ernst. "I'll just make it E. J.," he said.

Mrs. Friemel said she doesn't do much cooking since her children are grown and married, and so doesn't use the delicious German recipes handed to her from her mother by show-and-learn method. "But I still could if I had to," she said. "And on our wedding anniversary I'm going to make Aphel Streudel."

She said this is made by rolling out dough very thin, spreading on a layer of apples, crackers, butter, raisins, spices and "so many things." She rolls this up like a jelly roll and bakes it in a ring. This is served at weddings at her native home in South Texas.

This favorite pastry will not be her only reminder of their wedding day. In the bedroom in a glass and wood frame are the wax orange buds and orange blossoms and net which she used to make her bridal head-piece. This with her husband's wedding boutinierre surrounds a small wedding picture.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Soil Conservation is the proper use and care of the land. Each acre must be used for things it is best suited to do, and must be protected according to its needs.

All measures that help keep the land productive are tools of conservation, contours, organic matter, cover crops, grass, legumes, stubble mulch, crop residue utilization and irrigation land leveling.

Calvin Casey has leveled 20 acres of his farm land. This job was staked and checked by Soil Conservation Service technicians. The work was done with a large carry-all operated by Casey's son.

It was cut and filled to a uniform grade of one half inch to a hundred feet. The length of the irrigation runs are approximately 1100 feet. The maximum cut was five inches and the total yardage moved was 2315.

This leveling will enable Casey to do a better job of irrigating. It will also be easier to irrigate and will be cheaper due to more efficient use of the water.

If you need help in land leveling or any of the above practices contact your Soil Conservation Service Technician at his office in the courthouse in Canyon and let him plan your farm as to its needs and capabilities.

Housewives, here is a plan to get all your worries about food getting. It's simple. Just follow the rules and watch the pennies mount. It's a miracle plan that will let you eat well for less, if you survive, and if you do, well you can really save on food bill.

Read carefully and follow instructions exactly.

Rule 1. Plan meals and make a marketing list before a grocery shopping trip.

It may be a bit hard to think meals for a whole week, but when you do your efficiency will know no bounds and all you have to go to the market and pick the necessary items.

Now, where is that list? Oh, I surely you can remember, whoa, take your hand off the price bargains. It's too good pass? So what, it's not on the

So then you go home and start preparing the meals just as your says. Uh, oh, unexpected company for dinner. Well, what a few extra dollars on the bill a week?

Rule 2. Meat generally takes the best part of the food dollar, so it properly to prevent shrink-all week long, you've doted on steaks to save steak for Friday night. Tonight is the time. You over the steak in the broiler and over it anxiously. The phone rings. . . have you heard about new neighbors . . . yakety . . . they have the most beautiful charcoal colored rug . . . coal!!

Well, hamburgers were what the wanted anyway.

Rule 3. Choose flaked or grated meat; it's a penny saver, and the or is the same.

Especially, through tuna casserole, tuna fish, tuna salad, tuna sandwiches, tuna on toast, escalloped tuna, and tuna and noodles and just in tuna, the flavor is always the one, or so say a few of those odd for whom you cook.

As soon as this is unloaded in the kitchen, aghast wife has gained enough composure to quip in vinegary tones, "Where's the cow?"

Well, a few thousand boll weevils later and who will know the difference? And how about eating out tonight?

The game of Wa-Hoo, which doesn't seem to be too well known in this region, is played and two sets are owned by several Canyonites, the Riley Troths and the Kenneth Erwins, who are all Wa-Hoo enthusiasts, according to the women of the group.

Someone asked them if the game was called Wa-Hoo because that was the word said when you won. Mrs. Kenneth Erwin replied, "No, but that's what you feel like saying when you do win."

Mrs. Troth and Mrs. Erwin said they all get so excited when they play that the children have to turn up the television to ear-splitting volume in order to hear. As I understand it, if you are the type that gets extremely irked at your husband or wife over a game of bridge, don't dare try playing Wa-Hoo.

I also understand that there are at least two more sets here in town.

If you have a convalescent child in your home or know you will when chicken pox and measles season rolls around, here's a tip for keeping them occupied that might be helpful.

Try building, or letting them help you build, a bedside garden. All that is necessary is a container, a coffee can is fine, potting soil or vermiculite and a few packets of flower or vegetable seeds.

Punch holes in the bottoms of the cans, put a layer of pebbles in first for drainage, then fill with potting soil or vermiculite. Dampen the soil, then plant the seed, tamp them down and cover with more soil.

The cans may be painted or covered with foil. Plant only one type of seed in each can and label each separately. Cover the cans with paper and place in a warm spot, the bedside table is fine.

Just uncover each day and add water as needed until sprouts appear in four or five days, then place the plants in the sun and preferable give them a little plant food.

Who knows, you and junior may both learn something!

Mrs. Levi Cole has an unusual candy recipe that she said she used about 20 years ago "just for fun." She believes that children would like it better than adults, but it is a clever way to use left-over potatoes.

You may have heard it on the Pat Denton radio show, but in case you did or didn't catch it, here it is again.

Take about one potato mashed or creamed, beat in as much powdered sugar as the potatoes will hold. Roll out on a bread board and spread with peanut butter. Roll like a cinnamon roll and slice in thin slices. Lay slices flat.

Another candy recipe using mashed potatoes which was read on the Pat Denton show was tried by Mrs. Cole. She said she combined mashed potatoes, butter or cream, sugar, cocoa, nuts and patted out in an eight in square pan and sliced like fudge.

Mrs. Cole said if the potatoes were warm, though, they would really eat up the powdered sugar.

Tillie Fischbacher, Edward Klein Wed

St. Mary's Church was the scene Wednesday morning, Jan. 23, for the marriage of Tillie Fischbacher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fischbacher of Umbarger, to Edward Klein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Klein of Carlsbad, N. M.

Father Andrew Marthaler witnessed the double-ring service before an altar decorated with arrangements of white chrysanthemums.

Betty Jean Klein of Tulsa, Okla., sister of the bridegroom, was maid-of-honor, and bridesmaid was Hila Begert of Amarillo. They wore identical dresses of tangerine crystalline, styled with boat necklines, short sleeves, Empire waists and full skirts. Their headresses were of matching net and pearls. They carried bouquets of pale green carnations.

Albert Fischbacher of Umbarger, brother of the bride, was best man, and Alex Klein of Carlsbad, brother of the bridegroom, was groomsmen. Serving as ushers were Pete Fischbacher of Amarillo and Edward Fischer of Carlsbad.

The bride was attired in a full length gown of white dupioni silk with bodice insets of Alencon lace. The long sleeves tapered to points at the wrists, and the bouffant skirt extended into a chapel length train. Her finger-tip veil of illusion was attached to a coronet trimmed with pearls and sequins. She carried a bouquet of white roses showered with satin ribbons.

Mrs. Fischbacher, mother of the bride, wore a black dress with matching accessories. The mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Klein, wore a navy ensemble. Both had corsages of red roses.

Immediately following the ceremony, the bridal party was honored at a wedding breakfast in the home of the bride's parents. A

NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

The Weather

The Panhandle could certainly use the blanket of snow that has covered Washington. It first began to fall just a few hours after President Eisenhower left on his drought inspection trip, and really did a good job of covering the ground, bailing up traffic, and providing several days of celebration for the children who were allowed to stay out of school.

The temperature dropped down to about 8 in the outlying parts of the city, but the drop was gradual and not as harsh as it usually is in our section. Several of the members were discussing the matter around a cup of coffee, and I told them about the rancher near Canadian who nailed a thermometer on his fence post one night.

It seems that the temperature dropped so suddenly during the night that the fence post was driven three feet further into the ground. Some of them seemed a little skeptical until I explained some of our freak weather conditions and how the wind blew so hard one night near Higgins that it blew a 10-pound Dominicker rooster into a small-mouth gallon jug.

However, most of them had heard about the fellow who got up one morning in northern Alaska when the temperature was about 60 below and remarked, "Boy, it sure is cold tonight. Am I glad I'm not in Amarillo."

I explained to them that we would admit all of these stories about our weather, and some others that they hadn't heard, if we could just trade them for a little moisture. In fact, I pointed out that all of the stories about the freakish weather in the Panhandle of Texas did not include any about how hard it rained or the depth of a snow. There is plenty about the drought, the heat, the cold and the wind, but none about rain.

It is tragic that the drought has continued so long, yet many are just awakening to the seriousness of it. The local paper here carried a story about an editorial that was published in a London paper pointing up the blight which plagues many of our Southwestern people.

We do hope that the President's trip will bring rain or snow, or both. However, if this result is not forthcoming, we hope that quick action will be taken by the Administration to firm up the credit of these people in this stricken area and that measures will be taken to safeguard the land and the economy.

Those of us in the Texas Delegation who introduced a bill providing deferred grazing land payments and, also, providing for protection in the disaster feed program, feel that these two proposals will go a long way toward solving the overall problem.

We also know that there must be provision for more credit to many of these stricken farmers and ranchers. Many Members of the Congress have introduced bills identical with the one introduced by those of us in the Texas Delegation who are primarily affected by the drought.

All of these Members are deeply sincere in trying to get action instead of words. These proposals have been referred to as the "Texas Plan," but I think it would be well for the Administration to know that those of us who have introduced this legislation would be very happy to have it called the "Eisenhower Plan," the "Administration's Plan" or even the "Benson Plan," if they would just put it into effect.

The President's Budget Message Much will be said in the next few months about the President's all-time high, peacetime budget. The budget will undergo the closest scrutiny in both the House and the Senate.

The figures presented in the President's Budget Message, as well as the budget, will be carefully weighed against the figures that have been furnished by the several departments involved. The employed sometimes produces a manner in which figures can be strange results.

For instance the President's Budget Message reflects that, even though there is an increased expenditure of public funds, there will be a decrease in the national debt. Of course, this supposed decrease is an estimate and not a fixed and determined fact. The public debt has been increasing.

At the end of the fiscal year 1953, it was 266 billions of dollars. In 1954 it had increased to 271 billion, and in 1955 it had increased to 274 billion. In 1956 it is recorded at approximately 273 billion, but this balance does not reflect some bookkeeping changes that were made whereby some obligations were not reflected.

On Jan. 2, 1957, the public debt was slightly above 276 billions of dollars. Of course, this will be reduced by a few billion between now and the end of the fiscal year, which is June 30, because tax collections will be coming in during that time, but will then increase again.

It is also interesting to note that 51 per cent of these tax collections will be individual income taxes. Corporation income taxes will be 29 per cent; excise taxes, 12 per cent; other taxes, 8 per cent.

It is also interesting to note that estimates contained in the President's message reflect that the major increase in collection of taxes to offset the increased expenditures will fall on the backs of individual taxpayers. In 1956 individuals paid 35.3 billion in taxes.

In 1957 they will pay 38.5 billion, and in 1958 they will pay an estimated 41 billion. At the same time corporation income taxes will be for 1956, 21.3 billion; for 1957, 21.4 billion; and for 1958, 22 billion.

Excise taxes will drop from 10 billion in 1956 to 9.2 billion in 1957 and then down to 8.9 billion in 1958. The other taxes are just about the same.

In other words, the collection of taxes from individuals will increase by almost six billions of dollars, while corporation income taxes will increase less than 1 billion and excise taxes will be reduced.

Mrs. Glen Phillips of Perryton visited Sunday evening with Mrs. R. D. Lowry. Mrs. Phillips had been to Midland.

Marshall Cites Advantages of Home Economics

"I have received more practical knowledge in home economics than in any other classes," says Fanita Marshall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Marshall and this year's Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow in Canyon.

Fanita, a second-year home economics student at Canyon High School, cites studies in home nursing, cooking, meal planning and especially sewing as beneficial. Her first sewing was done in a home economics class.

At home, she helps her mother with the cooking, washing, ironing and house cleaning. "I enjoy cooking most of all," she said.

A senior, Fanita plans to attend West Texas State College after graduation and major in music, stressing training and study in organ. She began playing the piano when she was five years old.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Odum of Amarillo and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wiggins and children of Canyon were Sunday dinner guests in the home of Georgia Upfold.

Married

MRS. BILLY JOE McDONALD

Patricia Hubbard, Billy McDonald Exchange Wedding Vows Friday

Wedding vows were solemnized Friday night for Patricia Ann Hubbard and Billy Joe McDonald in the First Methodist Church with the Rev. Doyle Ragle officiating. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. B. Hubbard, 1311 Fourth Avenue, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan McDonald, 2601 Fourth Avenue.

Vows were exchanged before a white, satin-draped altar. Baskets of salmon pink gladioli and greenery flanked with candelabra were placed before the altar, and pews were marked with white satin ribbons.

Sister of the bride, Jo Hubbard, was candlelighter and wore a dress of pink crystaletta and a white gladioli wristlet. Tonja Steward, in pink organdy, was flower girl, and the bride's nephew, Bruce Hubbard, was ring bearer.

Mrs. Charles Hubbard, sister-in-law of the bride, attended the bride as matron-of-honor, and Kay Hubbard, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Both were dressed in pink and blue satin dresses and carried bouquets of salmon gladioli over prayer books, covered with satin from their dresses.

Best man was Charles McDonald of Midland, brother of the bridegroom. Ushers were Charles Hubbard, Dick McDonald and J. B. Thompson.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin, embossed with a wedding ring design, and featuring a sweetheart neckline with embroidered seed pearls and beads. A pearl tiara held her French, silk illusion veil and her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls. She carried a prayer book covered with satin matching her dress, topped with a white orchid and feather carnations.

The bride's mother wore a lace dress of rose pink over taffeta with black accessories and a white carnation corsage. Mrs. McDonald's dress was of pink lace over taffeta. She wore blue accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church. Jo Hubbard registered the guests and Mrs. Charles McDonald, Mrs. Dick McDonald, Mrs. Jerry Johnson and Mrs. Dan Stewart presided at the refreshment table. An embroidered white linen cloth and the bride's and attendant's bouquets decorated the table.

For the wedding trip, Mrs. McDonald wore a blue knit suit with black accessories and a white orchid corsage. The couple is now at home at 1606 Sixth Avenue.

She is a senior at West Texas State College where she is a member of Phi Gamma Nu National Sorority, Buffalo Gals and is secretary of the senior class.

Mr. McDonald received his B.S. degree from West Texas State in May and was a member of Alpha Psi Omega, national speech fraternity, and the Veteran's Club.

The parents of the bridegroom entertained at dinner in their home before the rehearsal.

Six Presbyterians At Dumas Meeting

Six Canyonites attended a district meeting of the Presbyterian church in Dumas Thursday, Jan. 24. Those attending were J. R. Sharp, Rev. T. Winston Wilbanks, stated clerk, Dr. C. R. Nester and Capt. Garland McSpadden, official delegates; Billy Black who reported on the Christian-Presbyterian Center at West Texas State, and Mrs. J. D. Barker, district president of the Presbyterial, who gave a report on that organization.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS By BOYCE HOUSE

Did I ever tell you about the time that I met Jack Dempsey in the ring?

The third man was the late Bobby Menziel, the well-known Tyler oil operator and, in his day, a noted boxer.

As we met in the middle of the ring, I gazed unflinchingly into the eyes of the Manassa Mauler and we shook hands. I led with a Texas story and Jack grinned. Then I handed him a copy of my book, "You Can Always Tell a Texan (But You Can't Tell Him Very Much)." I left the ring under my own power—one of the few men ever to face Dempsey to do so.

The date of this historic meeting was Nov. 28, 1955, in the Adolphus Hotel in Dallas. The arena had been set up for an exhibition bout which the former world's champion refereed, one of the features at a convention where I spoke.

Incidentally, I took advantage of the opportunity to ask Jack how much he weighed at Toledo when he climbed on the scales before the fight with Jess Willard, the gigantic champion who weighed 240. Dempsey said that his own actual weight was 180 and that he did not (as legend has it) have on shoes with steel soles for the weighing-in. However, he had been induced to eat bananas and drink a lot of water so as to appear heavier and the scales showed 186 pounds.

One day when I was 8 or 9 my mother sent me to the store to buy a loaf of bread. When I came back, I said that the grocer had offered me the choice of two loaves. "Why did you choose the one you did?" my mother asked. "Because," was my reply, "it was advertised—so I figured the man who made it was proud of it and was not ashamed to let it be known that it was his."

My father, who had been a newspaper publisher, was listening and he seemed pleased at the answer.

I had always thought of Harvard as a rich university—but, shortly before the Civil War (according to U. S. Senator George F. Hoar in his autobiography), Harvard had not the money to spare to pay the cost of moving the pulpit from the end of the chapel to the side.
